About the Ritter Family Classical Guitar Program

The Ritter Family Classical Guitar Program aims to be an agorà, a public space for scholars and guitarists, for students and music lovers—a place where different people and cultures meet to share ideas and foster the arts.

Through its different initiatives, its numerous collaborations with the community and its strong chamber music component, the program's mission is to encourage its students to interact with an international environment and to expose them to the most refined music-making. Students are stimulated to broaden their cultural and human horizons and to always look for different occasions in which to confront and meet new musicians. In so doing, they build their unique artistic path.

CU Guitar Festival and Competition

On March 8-10, 2019, please join our community of guitar students and guitar lovers from all over the world for the fourth biennial guitar extravaganza, our CU Guitar Festival and Competition. Details at: colorado.edu/guitarfestival
